Prior to his departure he visited Victoria a large number of friends met and presented him with an address regretting his departure from their district and conveying their best wishes for his success in his new sphere.
THE "Athabasca" arrived at the Landing on her return trip on July 1st. The Hudson's Bay Co.'s tramway, built where the boats land, was washed away by the recent high water and driftwood is piled all along the shore to a great height. The water was still rising last Saturday. The steamer was being engaged up the river getting out logs for the construction of another boat for the H. B. Co. next winter.

THE lower ferry, owing to the continual pressure of the high water, broke its connections with the main cable on Tuesday night when about half way across the river and with the ferryman and a boy on board started on a voyage down the river. THE creation of a market at Edmonton for "black sand" has stimulated several parties accustomed to washing gold in the upper stretches of the Saskatchewan to try their luck on the bars here, and also on the Battle river, where large deposits are visible. At a number of places on both rivers sand was found in abundance that yielded about a dollar a day in gold, with a liberal residuum of sand, the actual value of which has yet to be established. This however has already been established: submitted to various tests it is identical with some obtained from Edmonton, taken from that which the American company is buying. Several samples have been sent up by the steamer to be assayed, on the result of which further operations will depend. As soon as the Battle river falls a number of the bars will be thoroughly tested.—Battleford Herald.

ALL kinds of garden produce and roots are offered for sale this year earlier than ever before known here. The growth during the past month has been phenomenal, and assisted by the warm rains both grain and root crops have received a wonderful start. From the country on every side come jubilant reports of the crop conditions and prospects. The total quantity of grain sown throughout the district is double that of any preceding year, and from present appearances the country will have an enormous amount of wheat and other grain on hand after the harvest is threshed. New potatoes, cabbages and beets are already being offered for sale. Some farmers predict a shortage in the hay crop owing to the lack of rain in the spring. The showers at present, however, are rapidly remedying that difficulty and the crop promises to be equal the cultivated growth.

A SESSION'S WORK.

OTTAWA, June 30, '97.

Parliament was prorogued at eight o'clock last night, after a session of three months and four days. There are no complaints that the session was unimportant, or that the results of the work done are not far-reaching. The policy of the government in regard to preferential trade, the fast-Atlantic project, railway development, and general expenditure, is sufficiently interesting, not to say startling, to satisfy almost anyone. It is not too much to say that the liberal party went into the session with one policy and came out with another which has left the conservative party without a reason for existence, inasmuch as the policy of the present government is practically the policy of the old government with improvements. While the government may be hailed at for inconsistency, there is no doubt that a great deal of the old-time liberal policy was impracticable, and that while the new policy is not along the old lines it is a practicable one, and evinces signs of progress in right directions, which, although they are not as great as might possibly have been expected under a new and powerful administration, are very much better than could have reasonably been expected from the late government, no matter how powerful it was. They are particularly to be congratulated on the success of their policy on the school question. In this case the policy of conciliation which was advocated by the party while in opposition has been carried out and so far proven wonderfully successful by the party when in power. There is no doubt that the absolute abandonment of the commercial union idea as regards the United States, in favor of unrestricted preferential trade with Britain, is not only sound commercial policy, but good politics as well. In so far as the liberal party in the past leaned towards the United States they were weak in this country which before everything is loyal to Britain—whose only reason, in fact, for existence is that loyalty. To have completely dropped the American in favor of the British idea, and to have adopted the latter more strongly even than opponents, may be inconsistent, but it is inconsistency for which they will be most generally forgiven. Britain is Canada's best customer for Canada's principal products; therefore, any policy which will tend to enlarge trade with Britain is one tending to extend the market for Canadian products. The United States is a seller to us rather than a buyer, and whatever contributes to increase trade with the United States is to the disadvantage of Canadian production, and, therefore, of Canadian trade. It is to be regretted that the new government has not seen fit to reverse the policy of railway monopoly in the west, which was the policy of their predecessors. In this they have certainly disappointed the people of the west; but at any rate they have made terms on behalf of the people with the railway company, which in itself is a new departure. The value of the terms will depend on how the arrangement is administered hereafter. They are at least a recognition that satisfactory service for the money paid has not been given by the railway company; they are a recognition of the special interests of the west; but the west must depend upon the exertions of its press and representatives to secure the valuable enforcement of the arrangement. If eastern public opinion was too inert to require the government to take hold of the question of railway monopoly with a stronger hand, they are also too inert to compel the government to enforce the arrangement made in the interests of the people of the west. Whatever accusation can be laid against the government, it certainly cannot be accused of standing still. It may be open to the charge of vast expenditures; for the amount voted at this session totals up to nearly $48,000,000, besides railway subsidies to the amount of $8,000,000, and votes for canals another $8,000,000, while the subsidy to the fast Atlantic line capitalized adds a further $10,000,000. If the results of these expenditures are satisfactory, the government will receive due credit, for economy does not consist in saving money so much as in judiciously spending it. In any case the opposition can find no ground of complaint on that score, except that it be that even the great Sir Charles himself has been distanced at his own particular game.

THE MARKET SITE.

Much dissatisfaction is openly and unmistakably expressed in regard to the action of the council in passing a motion to expend $5,100 for the proposed market site. One of the reasons of objection given is that the expenditure is an unnecessary one and the advantage to be gained is one which could be very well dispensed with considering the present extent of the municipal taxation. Another and more powerfully supported objection, advanced principally by residents in the eastern portion of the town, is that the location of the market on the site at present proposed, namely, in the rear of the business houses situated between Morris & Co's and the Hardware Co's store, would have the effect of materially reducing the value of all land in the east end and, incidentally, increasing the value of the lots in the rear of which it would be situated to an extent equalled only by the adverse effect it would have on the property first referred to.

Mr. Heiminek's prettily painted word picture of the Edmonton of the future is certainly a work of art and an alluring scene. With the advent of a market site bringing with it financial and commercial prosperity in a degree hitherto totally undreamed of, vide Mr. Heiminek; with a great mart capable of containing the entire marketable produce of the district erected on block X; with cold storage and other depots erected on and overhanging the high bank of the river along the at present unsurveyed portion of land lying immediately to the south of block X; with a spur track running from the Main line back and under these cold storage depots and chutes arranged to carry the variegated produce of Northern Alberta direct to cold storage cars bound for the Kootenay and other markets for our produce, the picture certainly appeals to the mind and appears to lack no quality to make it a masterpiece of real estate agent art. Then, when coupled with the foregone conclusion of all the stores between block X and the Main street being extended and built backward to have one opening on the market and another on the Main street, the finishing touches are added to the landscape scene and it stands revealed in all its beauty a project worthy of the fertile brain in which it had its birth. There are, of course, one or two contingencies at present unprovided for, such as the spur track, etc., but they are mere bagatelle and sure to follow once the market leads the way.

This is one side of the question; the other side as set forth by its supporters is that the price is altogether too "steep"; that the site is an unsuitable one; and that the town already has land of its own which could be used without the necessity of purchasing any more.

As the matter is one entirely in the interests of the tax paying public, which they will have to pay for, and which of necessity will be left to them to decide when the vote on the by-law is taken, there is no necessity for any comment other than a statement of the facts as they exist at present and from those facts the ratepayers can draw their own conclusions and govern themselves accordingly.

As to the price of the proposed site as embodied in the motion passed by the council at last meeting; there is considerable misunderstanding and the question is asked: Why should the council vote $5,100 for the site which Mr. Heiminek offered to sell them for $4,000 and get the other $1,000 by private subscription. The reason is simple and easily explained. The land which Mr. Heiminek offered to sell for $4,000 from the town was simply block X, and the town's offer included that block and a portion of land lying to the south of it on the high bank, the greater portion of which is however, almost perpendicular and its value entirely a matter of opinion, but for this whole block Mr. Heiminek asked not $5,000, but $8,500. Besides this rectangular piece of land including block X and the portion of land adjoining it on the south, the offer of the town included other rights and privileges such as a free right of way to the bridge and ferry over the estate of David McDougall.

The offer has not yet been accepted by Mr. Heiminek, as agent for David McDougall, and there is a possibility however remote, of its being refused, and in any event, as before stated, before the agreement can become binding it would have to be ratified by the vote of the ratepayers and the council no doubt had that very important point in their minds when they passed the motion to buy block X.

HOMEWARD BOUND.

The Canadian contingent of colonial troops took the train for Liverpool, on the way home at 3.30 o'clock on Saturday afternoon. They marched to the station headed by the pipers of the Scots' Guards, and bands of the Third Grenadier Guards, and the Queen's Westminster Volunteers. Large crowds of people lined the route to the station and heartily cheered the Canadians. At Euston station they were received by many friends, by Lord Methven, in command of the home district; Colonel Ivor Herbert, Lord Glencon, the Canadian high commissioner; and by representatives of the colonial office.

New York, June 30.—The bicycle pool is broken. After years of organization, the ironclad agreement has gone to smash, and with it the price of high class wheels has slumped. The Pope manufacturing company announced that the price of the Columbia would be reduced 25 per cent. Jno. P. Loyell Arms company came forward with a similar announcement. It is believed a big bicycle rate war is on, and the public may get some cheap wheels this summer.

AN EX-EDMONTON BOY ON THE KOOTENAY.

The following private letter which was received last week by a citizen here from a former resident of South Edmonton, now located in the Kootenay, gives a few pointers to the intending pilgrim and fully explains itself:

I am down to pretty hard work now clearing a new townsite of standing timber, my brother and I have a contract and have a gang of men at work. I can't say that I have any great regard for this country as a place to live compared to the Edmonton district and money would require to be very plentiful to make up for the difference. This is a purely speculative district, nothing is on sound lasting principles and no one can tell how the future is going to act. In the matter of townsites they are located everywhere and it would be difficult to get a piece of land along any of the lakes not already claimed for that object. Prospecting and mining is also just as hazardous a means of attaining wealth and much more uncomfortable, the prospector climbing over mountains and dangerous glaciers all day and at night eating his bannock or hard tack and sleeping under a piece of bark or big log. Edmonton district is far ahead of that and more sure; so if you meet any discontented ones you would confer a favor on them by advising them against the hardships and risk of this inhospitable region.

I think I will stay through here for a while and travel over the country to see what is to be seen at the same time probably pick up a little of something which we are all looking for, and hope that when I come back if ever, that I will find some of South Edmonton still on the old ground and not moved across as some north ones predict. I must say that the Edmonton country has many pleasant points to be remembered when absent.

FROM THE FAR NORTH.

The following letter has been received by the BULLETIN from Fletcher Bredin at Fort Wigley, on the Mackenzie River. The letter was written on the 15th of March and took over three months to reach its destination:

"I have a chance to send you a few lines by Mr. D. T. Hanbury, an Englishman who has made a successful musk ox hunt on the Barren Lands, and is now returning, by dog train, up the Liard River and over the mountains to the mouth of the Stickeen River. We reached here on the 9th of Oct. Had a fine open fall. Ice began to run in the Mackenzie on the last of October and the river closed over on the 19th of November. Have had a beautiful winter so far. More like Alberta weather, than what one would expect to experience in this northern latitude, the 63rd parallel. Rabbits have been scarce all along the Mackenzie, and there has been a great destitution amongst the Indians. One Indian from this place starved to death. It has been a poor winter for fur. The martin crop will not be one fourth of what it was last winter. From Peel River to Slave lake there has been more or less starvation for the last three months and the Indians have been unable to do much trapping. This country badly needs government supervision. This letter leaves the members of our party all well."

CROW'S NEST PASS CONSTRUCTION.

A despatch from Montreal states that Vice-President Shaughnessy says now that the Crow's Nest Pass legislation has been completed the work of construction will be pushed with the utmost rapidity. Mr. M. J. Haney, who has entire charge of construction, will at once let the work out in small contracts so as to expedite the work. The company calculate on having 125 miles completed in December, or in other words expect to be across the summit before the snow falls.

A comment in the Free Press adds: While no authoritative information is available here as to commencement of work on the Crow's Nest Pass railway, it is generally expected in local railway circles that there will be a rush westward within a few days, and that work will be in active operation in less than ten days. It is thought probable that Vice-President Shaughnessy will be coming west early next week, and may arrive here at the same time as Mr. Haney, who is to be superintendent of construction. While negotiations were in progress with the government, the company at the same time made preparations for construction, so that all preliminaries are now practically finished, and everything ready for beginning work. Surveyors have been in the field for weeks, and the line is located a considerable distance west of Lethbridge, while engineering parties are now working through the pass. Not only has progress been made in the surveys, but much of the material is also on hand for construction. During the winter ties were got out in the mountains, and are ready to be shipped to Lethbridge and Macleod, from which points construction will be prosecuted. Local contractors are hopeful of securing work on the line, and have their outfits ready to ship west; and workmen expect that in a few days there will be a demand for laborers.

ANGUS RIDGE.
Miss Abbott has been spending a few days with Miss Ethel Thirk.
Mr. Wilson, who has been visiting postmaster Angus, left for Edmonton on Monday. We hope to see him back again.
Mr. and Mrs. Abbott have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Thirk.
Mr. Wood, of Wetaskiwin, preached a jubilee sermon here on Sunday last, dealing particularly with the Queen's pure life. Mr. Wood is rapidly coming to the front as a speaker. He is well liked here.
Messrs. Snowdon and Woods, of Wetaskiwin, were the guests of Mr. McVicar, teacher for Battle River school, on Friday. Mr. Snowdon leaves for Ontario in a few days. We wish him a pleasant journey.
T. Waterson is visiting relatives in Edmonton.
The Sabbath school attendance is rapidly increasing.

Mr. Thorne, who has been appointed for Wetaskiwin Methodist district, will likely make his appearance in a few weeks. The good people of Angus Ridge do not make denomination a hobby, but are tolerant towards all sects.

We were favored with a fine shower on Sunday last.

Rev. Latam, through some cause which he undoubtedly could not avoid, did not preach here last Sabbath. There was a large congregation present.

Ben Shanta's genial countenance was seen in our midst on Thursday.

Ed. Dowsell has been promoted to the fifth book. If work and punctuality will bring a school to the front the teacher is bound to make this school one of the best in Alberta.

June 28th.

POPLAR LAKE.

A social in aid of the school library was held in the school grounds on Friday evening the 25th ult. A game of foot ball was played between the children attending the Sturgeon school and Poplar Lake which resulted in favour of Poplar Lake. The game was followed by a very enjoyable evening spent in song, recitations and instrumental music.

By resolution of the council of public instruction the north half of sections 22 and 23 and south half of section 26 have been added to Poplar Lake school district.

The school closed for the summer holidays on the 1st of July.

FROM PEACE RIVER.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

A few lines from this part of Canada, showing how we live and move, may be of interest to some one living in the outside world.

Boats are now going up the river and in a few days others will be going down carrying our northern article of exportation to the markets of the world.

The past has been a fine winter, with a moderate amount of snow and no severe cold weather. Spring came early and to stay and seeding commenced on the 10th of April. More wheat has been sown than usual and as our potatoes last year proved so successful and came in so useful for feeding the stock during the winter, we have planted many more than usual. Some have put down over 200 bushels of grain which is coming up now and looking well. The grain is further advanced than we have ever before seen it for this season of the year.

The grist mill brought in by S. Lawrence has proved a success and given entire satisfaction to all concerned. Although there is less water in the river than usual, on account of the amount of snow which fell, and the mill is, therefore, at a disadvantage, this will be over come in time by raising the head of water and building back dams. The outlook is bright and prosperous.

Jas Lawrence who came in here a small boy eleven years ago, goes to Edmonton now for his outfit as he has quite a farm established here. Miss Grace Lawrence goes to Eastern Canada.

GENERAL NEWS.

A despatch from Montreal says that it is understood that the C. P. R. will probably have some six hundred miles of subsidiary lines in addition to the main Crow's Nest Pass line constructed by the close of 1898.

All of the Colonial troops present at the jubilee in London have received medals in commemoration of the occasion. The medals which are silver for the officers and bronze for the men, bear on one side the Queen's portrait and on the other, "In commemoration of the sixtieth year of the reign of Victoria."

A report from London says: At the army review at Aldershot on Friday the military contingent from Canada made an excellent impression in the march past the Queen. The Northwest Mounted police, the Dragoons and Hussars were especially cheered. After the review the Canadians, with the Queen's escort on her return from the grounds. It was a magnificent pageant and beautiful weather.

Toronto, June 30.—A special cable to the Globe says: "In view of the attitude taken by the Dominion senate in regard to the Intercolonial extension bill, the reports of which have appeared in English newspapers, it is probable Premier Laurier will ask the Imperial authorities to consider the advisability of reforming the constitution regarding the senate. A conference is proceeding daily between the colonial secretary, Mr. Chamberlain and the premiers of the various colonies."

Some of the amusing results of London's Jubilee are the chagrin of lodging house keepers as the crowd was not as clamorous for rooms as they anticipated and rents were accordingly low. Other caterers also complain of the lack of appetite evinced by the sightseers, but it remained with an industrious undertaker to cap the climax. He laid in a supply of 1,000 coffins to be in readiness for jubilee accidents but the demand did not at all equal the supply and the undertaker in consequence appears to consider himself very shabbily treated.

By-Law No. 141.

A By-Law respecting the cost of certain local improvements made during the current year.

Whereas, under and in pursuance of the provisions of "The Municipal Ordinance," Part 7, Section 3, a petition duly signed, was presented to the Municipal Council of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton, asking that there be made as a local improvement, a plank sidewalk, six feet wide, with the usual crossings, upon the east side of Mainway Avenue, one of the public streets of the Municipality, from the south-west corner of Lot 32, in Block 3, in River Lot 15, Edmonton, to the north-west corner of Lot 21, in Block 32, in the same River Lot.

And whereas, the said local improvement has been made, the expenditure therefor having been used by means of temporary advances or loans, effected in pursuance of "The Municipal Ordinance," Part 7, Section 3, sub-section (d).

And where as, in order to provide means for the repaying of the said temporary advances or loans, it is now necessary to ascertain what portion, if any, of the cost of the said local improvement, should be borne by the Municipality at large, and what is the probable life of the said local improvement and to provide for the assessment by way of special frontage assessment of the cost or portion of the cost of the said local improvement, upon the lands fronting the street or place whereon, or wherein the said local improvement has been made, and for levying of such cost or portion thereof, by a special rate upon such lands, and for regulating the time or times, and manner in which the rate for the said local improvement shall be paid.

Therefore, the Mayor and Council of the Municipality of the Town of Edmonton, in council assembled, enact as follows:

1. The Standing Committee of the Council on Public Works shall forthwith consider the said petition, and the resolutions of the Council passed in respect thereof, and the work actually done in pursuance thereof, and the accounts of the expenditure made therefor, and all the other matters necessary to enable the said committee to make a report to the Council which shall set forth and certify:

(a) The probable lifetime of the said improvement.

(b) The actual cost of the said improvement.

(c) The portion (if any) of the cost to be borne by the Municipality at large.

(d) The portion of the cost to be provided by special frontage assessment.

(e) The frontage of the property upon which the special frontage assessment is to be levied, stated in lineal feet.

(f) The rate of special frontage assessment per foot frontage.

(g) The amount chargeable to each lot or parcel of land assessed according to the rate per foot frontage.

(h) The value of the land chargeable with the special frontage rate (exclusive of all improvements thereon).

2. The Council shall forthwith consider the said report and adopt the same, with such amendments, if any, as they shall deem proper, and thereupon, the several properties affected are hereby declared to be assessed, and the assessor of the Municipality is hereby directed to assess the same in accordance with the terms of the report so adopted.

3. The time and manner of payment of the amount of the assessment, shall be as follows: The amount of the assessment shall be payable in such number of equal consecutive annual payments as shall correspond with the number of years which shall have been certified to be the probable lifetime of the improvement, together with a further equal annual sum, such that the total annual payment shall be sufficient to cover the annual interest on the principal, at the rate of six per cent, payable half yearly, and to form a sinking fund for the payment of the principal, based on a calculation of interest being received thereon at the rate of five per cent. yearly.

4. As soon as the Council shall have appointed a time and place when and where the Council will sit as a Court of Revision for the confirmation of the special frontage assessment so made (which the Council shall forthwith do by resolution) the assessor of the Municipality shall give notice to all parties interested, in pursuance of the Municipal Ordinance, Part 7, Section 10, which notice may be in the form or to the effect of Schedule A. to this By-Law.

Done and passed in Council this 30th day of June, A. D. 1897.

BEAVER CREEK.

A very enjoyable picnic was held here to-day by the school children of Beaver Lake public school. A fine popular grove had been selected by Mr. Riley or his farm, nicely sheltered from the sun, and the day being fine, those present thoroughly enjoyed the joys of picnic life.

The parents and friends of the children, who had come to have a little fun themselves, and to have a little social intercourse, added greatly to the enjoyment of the meeting. The tables, all "fixed up" in the grove—were loaded down with the "good things"—dinner, tea and supper were all partaken of by those present, the bachelors more especially having a good time.

Nearly a hundred persons were present, including the children, and just to think that only about four or five years ago, the same spot had been a wilderness, and inhabited only by the prowling coyote, whilst to-day could be heard the Christian's song of praise.

The programme consisted of singing, reciting, etc., and Mrs. A. White presided at the organ and enlivened the scene with the sweet strains of music. Mrs. Whiteside's musical gifts being of a high order indeed.

The programme was gone through adding much to the children's credit. Twenty pieces in all, and it rather astonished the older folks, to listen to the able way in which the young ones acted their part, reflecting great credit to Mrs. McNeill, the teacher, also to the cleverness of the children. Florence Whiteside, Donnie Riley, Maud McGee, Annie and Willie Campbell were more especially noticeable in their correct recitations.

Miss McNeill received a farewell address on her leaving for British Columbia, presented by the school children, and read by Wm. Maitland, who acted as chairman. Miss McNeill replied very feelingly, thanking all for their kindness since she came to Beaver Creek, and that she would not forget her young friends although far away.

"Good Save the Queen," came last, although not least, on the programme and was sung feelingly by all present, and then all prepared to leave, everyone satisfied and grateful for the good time they had had together.

July 1st, 1897.

EDMONTON REPLIES.

EDITOR BULLETIN.

DEAR SIR: In your issue of July 5th, your Stony Plain correspondent has a rather amusing item, but before going further perhaps an explanation would be necessary. This Stony Plain correspondent takes the liberty of complimenting the Edmonton foot ball club, an organization that is without existence, for the courteous and friendly treatment accorded the Stony Plain kickers. As one of the players, who was asked to accommodate the Stony Plain club on July 23rd, allow me to inform your correspondent that Edmonton is without a foot ball club this year and of course it would be impossible "to feel hurt if other clubs in the future fail to recognize its existence."

Stony Plain, I ascertained fortunately through being able to find some one to enlighten me, challenged this Edmonton foot ball club to a match on July 23rd, and a gentleman wishing to oblige them asked some of the players in that line of sport to give Stony Plain a game as it would possibly tend towards getting the visitors into the grounds without their having to pay admission.

If these twelve good men and true from Stony Plain wished to receive complimentary admission to the grounds, with very little trouble they might have found some philanthropic individual, who would have been delighted to satisfy their eleemosynary cravings, and further I am authorized to state that the team which represented Edmonton on the 23rd will refund to the Stony Plain players that vast sum of money which they so liberally (!) deposited into the coffers of the Edmonton diamond jubilee association.

The writer has come across such sore heads before and, no doubt, Mr. Editor you will pardon me for taking up so much of your valuable space in exonerating this Edmonton foot ball club (!) that owes its existence (!) to this Stony Plain correspondent.

Yours,
CAMPUS.
Edmonton, July 7th, '97.

THE CLOSE OF PARLIAMENT.

Parliament was prorogued on Wednesday night. In the Commons, business was finished at noon, the government dropping the resolutions to pay over $300,000 out of the school funds to Manitoba. In the senate no opposition was offered to the Crown's Nest bill which with other government measures was passed. His Excellency, Lord Aberdeen, was in attendance at eight and prorogued parliament in the following speech.

Honorable gentlemen of the senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

In relieving you from further attendance in parliament, I desire to thank you for the assiduity with which you have discharged the duties of a fatiguing session and I congratulate you on the very important legislation which has been the outcome of your deliberations. The revision of the tariff which occupied a large part of the session, has been completed in a manner which I trust will prove effective in promoting the trade and commerce of the Dominion. It is gratifying to know that this measure has been recognized as one of imperial importance and that it has already had a marked effect in strengthening the bonds which unite Canada and the motherland.

The arrangements for establishing a fast steamship line of the highest class between Great Britain and Canada, with the co-operation and assistance of the Imperial and Canadian governments encourage me to hope that at no distant day we shall see the accomplishment of that very important project. I am pleased to observe that you have made provision for extending substantial aid to various important railway enterprises which are designed to develop the vast mineral wealth of Canada and to improve the facilities for transportation and travel.

The bill to provide an effective system of cold storage on land and sea will promote the interests of our agriculturists by affording means for the transportation of perishable food products and placing them in the best condition in the great markets of the world.

Gentlemen of the House of Commons: I thank you for the liberal provision which you have made for the public service.

Honorable gentlemen of the senate: Gentlemen of the House of Commons:

The session now closing will be memorable not only on account of the important measures which have been passed, but also it has been held during the year of Her Majesty's jubilee in which the people of all parts of the empire united in celebrating the sixtieth anniversary of the reign of Her Majesty, Queen Victoria. The splendid demonstrations which have taken place throughout the Queen's dominions testify at once to the loyalty and affection of the people to their sovereign and the unity of the British Empire. I know that you rejoice with me that Canada has worthily performed her part in these great events.

In now taking leave of you I desire to express my best wishes for your personal happiness and my earnest hope that the work of the session may prove useful in advancing the prosperity of the people whom you represent.

putting it off any longer as there will be nothing gained by it. If you need any goods of any description now is the time to buy them, and the only question to consider is, where are you going to buy them, where can you do the best and be sure of getting the best value for your money...

This is both a wise and important matter to consider whether times are good or bad. In the opinion of a large number of the most prosperous people in the country, who are the shrewdest and most careful of buyers, McDOUGALL'S is the place the year round, in any kind of times, and no matter what is the size of your purse. No purchasers too small or none too large. One and all receive the very best of values, and they all come back for more.
